ALLEGED DEFENDANTS TOOK STATE FUNDS FOR PERSONAL USE

Goes Into Details of Alleged Conspiracy to Defraud the State by Retaining Interest Moneys Collected—Claims Two Sets of Books Were Kept—Big Earnings Claimed

WAUKEGAN, Ill., Jan. 5.—The state will attempt to prove at the trial of Governor Len Small that he, with Vernon Curtis, the late Edward Curtis and Lieutenant Governor Fred E. Sterling, took $535,000 of state funds and retained it "for their personal and private property and the property of others unknown."

This is the substance of the state's bill of particulars filed with the clerk of the circuit court here today. The bill, a fifty page document, goes at length into the details of the alleged conspiracy to defraud the state by retaining interest money collected during the terms of Mr. Small and Mr. Sterling as state treasurer.

The alleged conspiracy had its inception about March 30, 1917, the bill says, at which time Mr. Sterling is not claimed to have been a party to it. He entered, the state claims, on or before Jan. 9, 1919, when he became state treasurer.

SWIFT COMPANY SHOWS DECREASE IN 1921 BUSINESS

Also $20,000,000 Loss in Inventory Values

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—There was a loss in inventory values of Swift & Co. Chicago packers, of $20,000,000 during 1921, Louis F. Swift, president of the company stated today in discussing the thirty-seventh annual meeting of the shareholders of the organization.

"However, during the prosperous years of the war," Mr. Swift continued, "we provided for the serious decline by appropriating large amounts to surplus in order to maintain the company in sound financial condition, enabling it to continue the payment of regular dividends. We paid dividends of 8 percent, amounting to $12,000,000."

Inventory losses for the first quarter together with the continuing slack trade due to business depression, made it impossible for us to show a profit for the 12 months under review.

"The prospects are that Swift & Co. will continue in payment of dividends."

Mr. Swift stated that gross sales during the year were $1,100,000,000. The 1920 sales were slightly over $1,000,000,000. The decrease in tonnage, he said was only about six percent.

Wages were reduced 22 1-2 percent during the year, 12 1-2 cents in March and a further reduction of 10 percent in November, he announced.

The balance sheet of the company on November 5, 1921, as announced by Mr. Swift showed a surplus of $61,739,391; capital stock at $150,000,000 and total liabilities including capital stock and surplus of $361,843,865.

Assets equalling this latter amount were divided between cash, accounts receivable, inventories, stock and bonds and real estate improvements.

MAJOR OPIE TAKES WITNESS STAND IN OWN BEHALF

Says Never Shot Pistol While He Was in the Army

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Sweeping denial of charges that he had shot two of his men while his command, part of the Twenty-ninth division, was in the thick of the Argonne fighting, was made before a senate investigating committee today by Major Hiram L. Opie of Staunton, Va., and nearly a dozen men serving with his overseas. At an all day session only one voice was lifted against Major Opie—the voice of a shell shocked victim of war, now a patient in a Virginia hospital for the insane.

The witness, Samuel C. Smith, declared that while in a dugout with three comrades and four German prisoners Major Opie entered, shot and killed a soldier, then ordered the body removed.

In rapid succession the comrades mentioned by Smith went on the stand and swore they saw no such killing, that they were not in the dugout, and that they knew of no evidence whatever to support the charges. And then after half a dozen of Major Opie's men had testified that they never heard of his shooting a soldier in France or anywhere else, the major himself spoke in his own defense, declaring there was no word of truth in the accusations and that he never shot a man in his life.

Major Opie explained in detail how he had attempted to get his men in a line after they had been demoralized and were running wildly.

At the moment he was without side arms was wearing a raincoat, the insignia on which was covered with mud and it was with difficulty that he could make the men halt.

"I took a rifle and fired twice," he said, "knowing perfectly well what I was doing. One shot was fired in the air and one in the ground. Nobody was hit."

"Did you shoot a runner with a revolver, as charged?" Chairman Brandegee asked.

"I never fired a pistol the whole time I was in the army," Major Opie declared.

Chairman Brandegee wanted to know if Major Opie had any theory as to how the reports about him had started.

"None, sir," he said.

Senator Willis, Republican, Ohio, questioned Major Opie regarding the testimony of Henry L. Scott of Kemper, Ohio, that he saw the major shoot a runner.

"It is deliberately untrue," the major exclaimed.

Senator Watson, Democrat, Georgia, whose charges in the senate that American soldiers had been hanged without trial in France, took no part in the examination of Major Opie or his witnesses.

But at the close of the session Senator Watson, announcing that he was not prosecuting any case, presented a list of witnesses to be summoned to give testimony relating to the Opie charges.

The committee indicated that they would be called when the hearing is resumed next Tuesday. Some of Major Opie's witnesses expected here today failed to arrive in time and they will be heard next week.

The only other testimony during the day was that of Herbert L. Cadenhead, of Greenville, Mass., who declared he saw ten or eleven soldiers hanged around Lusville, France, while war department records showed only two executions at that place.

ECONOMICS TO BE DISCUSSED AT CONFERENCE

Supreme Council Will Take up Question Today

(By The Associated Press)
CANNES, Jan. 5.—The program for the forthcoming international economic conference was uppermost in today's conversations between the premier and the chief delegates to the supreme council which meets in session here tomorrow.

The French view has been that the agenda should be strictly laid down in advance. It is understood that David Lloyd George, the British premier, agreed to this and that the question will be first discussed when the council goes into session at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning.

In addition to a continuation of the private talks between Premier Briand and Mr. Lloyd George, M. Briand had a lengthy conversation today with the Marquis Del La Torretta, the Italian minister of foreign affairs, and also saw Premier Thuynys of Belgium and Baron Hayashi of Japan. The only official announcement after these talks was that the conversations were proceeding satisfactorily.

Today's developments seemed to confirm the impression that the allies are agreed upon the principle of an economic conference, the still debating the details.

Reparations were discussed by the experts today, the Belgians stoutly opposing any modification in the schedule of payments that likely would compromise their priority on the 2,500,000,000 gold marks due by Germany. The French delegation is backing the Belgians on this point, but it is inclined to make concessions to the British viewpoint to the extent of reducing the cash payments to 500,000,000 gold marks annually and the rest of the reparations in kind. The British go further than this and desire to reduce the deliveries in kind so that the total, both in cash and in kind, can be reduced about 25 percent from the Paris agreement of 1,500,000,000 gold marks.

Participation by Germany in the eventual international economic conference is now taken for granted but there still is discussion as to what could be the consequences of the presence of Russian soviet delegates.

GOVERNMENT SHIPS WILL TRANSPORT GRAIN AT COST

Arrangements Are Made to Carry Grain to Russia

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Government merchant ships will transport grain for famine relief in soviet Russia at cost as a result of a request for thirty vessels made to the shipping board today by the American relief administration. The request of the relief administration was announced by Secretary Hoover, who declared that the rates sought by private American operators for carrying grain to Baltic ports were "not justified."

The shipping board according to J. B. Smith, vice president of the emergency fleet corporation stands ready to operate the thirty ships as needed to its operators to carry grain to Russia at cost. The vessels probably will be assigned to this service from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Newport News and New Orleans.

Request for the government ships was made, Mr. Hoover explained because of increases of $2 to $2.50 a ton in rates to Baltic ports demanded in New York yesterday by private American operators which he added, was about three dollars a ton in advance of the rate quoted by foreign shipping concerns.

An older child died last Monday from that disease without being attended by a physician, her parents believing only in the efficacy of prayer and refusing to take medicine.

The insanity case was continued until Saturday and the woman was allowed to return home. Her husband weakened after her arrest and consented to antitoxine being administered to the sick child and four other children of the family.

While in court, "Sister Baker" declared she did not want a lawyer and that "God alone would defend her." She also claimed the child now suffering from diphtheria, died one year ago and was restored to life by God.

SHOOTING AFFRAY CAUSES ONE DEATH AT KANSAS CITY

Kansas Stock Raiser Also Wounds Two By-standers

(By The Associated Press)
KANSAS CITY, Jan. 5.—One man is dead and two others wounded, one seriously, as a result of a shooting in the lobby of the Livestock Exchange Building today. The slain man is Harry Bruner, horse buyer formerly of Des Moines, Iowa but employed by a local firm.

The wounded men are Adolph Drahos of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, livestock agent for the Missouri Pacific Railroad and W. B. Hall, Kansas City livestock agent for the Chicago Burlington & Quincy Railroad, bystanders who were struck by flying bullets when Bruner was shot by Frank Thompson of Olathe, Kansas, a livestock raiser, horse buyer formerly of Des Moines, Iowa but employed by a local firm.

According to witnesses Bruner and Thompson came into the building quarreling. Thompson, they said drew a revolver and began firing. Bruner fled toward the rear lobby with Thompson in pursuit firing as he ran. Six shots were fired, the first two striking Drahos and Hall. Another shot passed thru the clothing of a third bystander.

As Bruner reached a door dividing the front and rear lobbies one shot struck him as he fell.

According to witnesses the last shot was fired as Thompson stood over Bruner's body. Thompson then entered an elevator and rode to the second floor of the building where he surrendered to a policeman. He was taken to police headquarters where he said the shooting took place because he believed Bruner and two other men had been following him for several days with the intention of killing him.

Thompson's friends said they had been concerned for some time over his health and believed that he may have been the victim of an hallucination. Thompson is widely known in the middle west as a raiser of fine mules and has a large mule farm near Olathe.

The foreign troop resolution given committee approval reaffirms the intention of the powers to withdraw whenever local conditions will warrant, and provides for a consultation on the subject between the foreign ambassador in Peking and a committee of Chinese officials.

While the naval committee was at work on the submarine problem the sub-committee of experts continued whipping technical details into shape for inclusion in the five power naval treaty and it was indicated that the instrument would be ready for signature within a few days.

As a collateral feature of the treaty it was revealed provision is to be made for a future consultation among the powers in case any unforeseen political or scientific development changes the situation. It is declared however, that any such issue must affect directly the subject matter of the treaty itself, and that the provision will not be broad enough to cover international disputes generally.

JUDGE LANDIS ISSUES INJUNCTION.

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—An injunction restraining all creditors and all officers of the law from acting for creditors in making attachments or levies against the assets of Robert H. Ingersoll & Brothers, was granted in United States district court today by Judge K. M. Landis.

The injunction writ affects only the territory of Northern Illinois included in the jurisdiction of the court. The petition for the injunction was filed by counsel for Edward H. Childs of New York recently appointed receiver for the Watch company by Federal Judge Hand.

Operation of at least one nitrate plant would commence within one year from the date of possession, Mr. Engstrom said.

The corporation also would operate a research department in cooperation with the government for the purpose of developing the process of fixation of atmospheric nitrogen.

FINISH HEARINGS R. R. RATE BILLS

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The hearings which have been conducted for several months by the senate commerce committee on the Capper and related bills to amend the transportation act by declaring state control over interstate rates and modifying other features of the statute, were closed today after several interstate commerce commissioners had submitted explanations of the commission in authorizing certain rate changes.

When the hearings were adjourned, committee members were understood to have agreed that while they would proceed to consider the bills in connection with the testimony which has been taken it would be inadvisable to make a report in advance of a decision by the supreme court on questions relating to the constitutionality of the transportation act which have been raised by various states.

AMERICAN PROPOSAL ON SUBMARINES IS ACCEPTED BY POWERS

Will Prohibit Their Use Against Merchant Ships—Issues Which Bulk Large in the Far Eastern Negotiations Likewise Are Being Brought to Decision in Conference

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The American proposal to prohibit use of submarines against merchant ships was accepted by the powers today at the same time that issues which have bulked large in the far eastern negotiations were likewise being brought to a decision. Under the submarine declaration the United States, Great Britain, Japan, France and Italy, invite other nations of the world to join in the agreement.

The decision was taken in many quarters as forecasting action tomorrow on the further proposal to make violations of the rules of warfare by submarine commanders acts of piracy. In the far eastern end of the conference, agreements were reached for amelioration of the foreign control of China's tariff and for steps toward withdrawal of foreign troops from Chinese soil, but the Shantung conversations hung fire and developed indications of growing friction between Japanese and Chinese.

So delicate was the situation regarding Shantung that the Chinese indicated after today's meeting that they had delivered a virtual ultimatum declaring that separate exchanges by the Japanese must come to an end tomorrow unless the latter are ready to accept a counter proposal tendered them today.

By their tariff agreement adopted by the far eastern committee after the Chinese had declared it did not meet their hope for restoration of tariff autonomy, a higher tariff rate is to be granted China and a commission is to investigate the feasibility of further increases in the future. It is estimated that the plan will result immediately in annual increase of upwards of fifty million dollars in Chinese customs revenues.

The foreign troop resolution given committee approval reaffirms the intention of the powers to withdraw whenever local conditions will warrant, and provides for a consultation on the subject between the foreign ambassador in Peking and a committee of Chinese officials.

While the naval committee was at work on the submarine problem the sub-committee of experts continued whipping technical details into shape for inclusion in the five power naval treaty and it was indicated that the instrument would be ready for signature within a few days.

NEW PROPOSAL RECEIVED FOR MUSCLE SHOALS

Newport Shipbuilding Company Wants Plant

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—A new proposal for the lease and operation of the government's nitrate and water power projects at Muscle Shoals, Alabama, was received today by Secretary Weeks of the war department from Frederick E. Engstrom of Wilmington, N. C., president of the Newport Shipbuilding company of that city.

Mr. Engstrom guarantees to complete the plant for $36,000,000 and to operate it for the manufacture of fertilizer nitrates to its utmost limit. He will maintain the plant, he says, at his own expense and will sell the products at prices established by the secretary of agriculture and supply all demands regardless of other business interests.

Mr. Engstrom proposed to form a corporation to be governed by a board of seven directors, one to be selected by the secretary of war and one by the secretary of agriculture as government representatives, while the remaining five should be selected by the corporation to be formed. Under the order the corporation would commence work within sixty days from the date of possession and would complete construction within four years.

Operation of at least one nitrate plant would commence within one year from the date of possession, Mr. Engstrom said.

The corporation also would operate a research department in cooperation with the government for the purpose of developing the process of fixation of atmospheric nitrogen.

WOODSON PASTOR IS GIVEN SURPRISE

Unity Workers of Presbyterian Church Plan Surprise for Rev. A. E. Powell and Wife—Christian Missionary Society Met—Other News Notes

Woodson, Jan. 5.—The Unity Workers of the Woodson Presbyterian church gave their pastor, Rev. A. E. Powell, and wife, a very pleasant surprise Thursday afternoon.

Quite a number of the members of the society went to the manse laden with gifts of canned fruit, vegetables and other good things to eat and also various useful articles for the home. While taken altogether by surprise, the minister and his wife expressed their appreciation of the gifts in no uncertain manner.

A brief business session was held, after which refreshments brought by the visitors were served. The next regular meeting of the Workers will be held at the manse on Thursday, Jan. 26.

While the membership of the local Presbyterian church is not large, a fine spirit prevails among the members and their pastor and in various ways this spirit of unselfish service is evidenced.

The Ladies Aid of the Christian church will hold a market Saturday in the building belonging to Fred Kitzer on Main street. Some bazar articles will also be offered for sale.

Finding of Appellate Court Sustains Lower Court Finding on Giving Lodge Judgment for $16,063—Suit Occasioned by Absconding of Haverly, Grand Keeper of Records and Seal.

The appellate court of the third district has affirmed the judgment of the circuit court of Macoupin county in the suit wherein a judgment for $16,063 was awarded the Grand Lodge Knights of Pythias of this state against the Fidelity & Deposit Co. of Maryland. In this proceeding, which developed from the defalcation of Paul Haverly, grand keeper of records and seals, the grand lodge was represented by Worthington, Reeve & Green of this city, and Judge Vaughn of Carlinville.

The total defalcation of Haverly amounted to $49,138 and a suit for $30,000 is now pending against a Chicago bank. It is the claim of the grand lodge representatives that $30,000 was drawn from this bank by Haverly on a forged check and that therefore the bank is responsible. Should the final finding be in favor of the lodge then the loss thru the absconding of Haverly will be practically made good.

In the suit in which the appellate court has just made a finding the insurance company maintained that the bond has been secured by fraud after the refusal of another company to issue the bond. It was, however, shown by the attorneys for the grand lodge that the Fidelity & Deposit Co. had previous knowledge of the fact that another company had refused to make the bond.

At the time the bond was made the funds were on deposit with the Central Trust Co. of Chicago and were subsequently transferred to another bank. The insurance company held that there had been a breach of contract on this account and the attorneys for the grand lodge maintained that there was no legal reason why the funds could not be transferred from one bank to another.

The contents of the grand lodge attorneys were upheld through the finding is of interest to Pythians all thru the state. The principal paragraphs of the court finding are given here-with:

March 15, 1919, Paul J. B. Haverly was installed as Grand Keeper of Records and Seal, Grand Lodge Knights of Pythias, Grand Domain of Illinois, a fraternal order, to fill a vacancy caused by the death of Henry P. Caldwell, who had been the regular incumbent of that office. Prior to his installation into such office Haverly gave to appellee an indemnity bond in the sum of fifteen thousand dollars with appellant, a Maryland corporation, with a branch office in Chicago, Ill., as surety.

Haverly entered upon the performance of the duties of his office and upon the 5th day of August, 1919, he absconded. An examination of his accounts showed a shortage of $49,138.54.

Notice was given appellant of such defalcation and demand made for payment of the indemnity bond. Payment being refused by appellant suit was instituted upon the bond by appellee against appellant in the circuit court of Macoupin county.

A trial by jury was waived and the cause being tried before the court resulted in a judgment for appellee against appellant for $16,062.50 and costs of suit, the judgment being for the full amount of the bond with interest thereon. From this judgment appellant has appealed to this court.

Prior to the execution of the bond by appellant a written application therefor was made to appellant by Haverly and this application was accompanied by a written statement of Smith L. Van Fossen, the Grand Chancellor or head of the order to whom the bond was given, with reference to the duties and responsibilities of Haverly as such officer.

The bond contained the following provision: "Whereas, the Employer has delivered to the Fidelity and Deposit Company of Maryland, a corporation of the State of Maryland, hereinafter called the company, certain statements in writing relative to the Employee, his conduct, duties, employment and accounts, the manner of conducting the business of the Employer and other things connected with the issuance of this bond, which together with any other statements in writing hereafter made by the Employer to the company relating to any such matters do and shall constitute the basis and form part of this contract and shall be warranties."

It is contended by appellant that these statements of Haverly and Van Fossen constitute warranties on the part of appellee; that such warranties were promissory warranties; that there had been a breach of such warranties by appellee and that by reason thereof appellant was absolved from liability upon the bond.

The law is well settled in its application to insurance contracts that a misrepresentation of a material fact in reliance upon which a contract of insurance is issued, will avoid the contract. U. S. Fidelity Co. vs. National Bank, 233 Ill. 475; Wilce Co. vs. Royal Indemnity Co., 289 Ill. 383.

In Minnesota Life Ins. Co. vs. Link, 230 Ill. 276, the court said: "Whether the alleged false answers are warranties or mere representations is a question to be determined from the construction of the contract, which should be in accordance with the expressed intention of the parties."

The bond in question is in effect a contract of insurance and as such is subject to the rules of construction applicable to insurance contracts generally. People vs. Rose, 174 Ill. 319.

In construing any instrument

the purpose for which it is made should be kept in mind. Contracts of guaranty insurance are made for the purpose of furnishing indemnity to the assured and should be liberally construed for the accomplishment of that purpose. Am. Surety Co. vs. Pauly, 170 U. S. 133.

In construing a policy of insurance it is the duty of the court to consider the instrument as a whole and to ascertain, if possible the intention of the parties from the written words used by them, taking into consideration, the situation of the parties, the nature of the subject matter with which they are dealing and the purpose sought to be accomplished. White vs. Greenwood, 180 P. 45; Lumber Co. vs. Wilson, 69 W. Va. 598; Hunter vs. G. P. Co., 220 S. W. 163; Duck vs. Goldberg, 295 Ill. 86.

Insurer's Responsibility.

In construing an insurance policy if there is any ambiguity and the language found in the policy is that of the insurer and not of the insured it should be favorably construed on behalf of the insured so as not to defeat a recovery in favor of the insured. Wilkinson vs. Aetna Ins. Co., 240 Ill. 205; Clark & Co. vs. Fidelity & Casualty Co., 220 Ill. App. 576. In Julius vs. Metropolitan Life Ins. Co., 299 Ill. 343, it is said: "If there is any ambiguity in an insurance policy it is the fault of the insurance company. It prepares the contract and the language used in the contract is its language. If that language is susceptible of two interpretations, that one will be adopted which is most favorable to the insured in order to indemnify him in the loss he has sustained."

Applying the rules above stated we must hold that appellant is not absolved from liability on the bond of Haverly's statement in his application that his application for a fidelity bond had never been declined. The evidence shows that prior to making application for the bond in question Haverly had applied to the officers of the American Surety Co., in Chicago for his official indemnity bond to appellee. The evidence also shows that Haverly's application to appellee was made personally to the manager and assistant manager of the surety department of appellee.

After the installation of Haverly into his office a large amount of the funds of appellee were withdrawn from the Central Trust and Savings Bank and deposited in the Fort Dearborn National Bank and Harris Trust and Savings Bank, some of which were later converted by him to his own use.

It is contended by appellant that the question and answer, "Q—Where are the funds deposited? A—Central Trust and Savings Bank" contained in Van Fossen's statement constitutes a promissory warranty and that the withdrawal of the funds and their deposit in other banks was a breach of such warranty and discharged appellant from liability upon the bond. That this was an express warranty of an existing fact and not intended as a promissory warranty is evidenced by the fact that by the third clause of the rider which is a part of the indemnity bond, the bond is extended to cover loss thru the failure of any bank or trust company wherein are deposited funds for which Haverly was responsible to appellee.

Haverly on August 6, 1919, deposited a cashiers check for $30,000 with the Harris Trust and Savings Bank and on that same day drew two checks upon this bank, one for $18,815.00 and one for $20,405.00, which checks were both paid by the bank to Haverly in cash with which Haverly absconded.

Other Points of Interest. It is contended by appellant that the facts above stated constitute a breach of promissory warranties claimed to have been made by the following questions and answers of Van Fossen in the statement above mentioned.

"Is applicant empowered to draw or check upon such deposits?"

Only checks to the Credit of the Master of Exchequer in transmitting collections.

Will the applicant's duties involve the handling of securities or treasury assets, belonging to the Body or Association? No. Trustees handle that.

Is applicant allowed to make payments in cash from the funds of the association? No. All payments are made by voucher countersigned by me.

The information contained in these questions and answers was material to the risk and that they were intended as promissory warranties is evidenced by the clause of the bond which provides that appellant "shall reimburse the Employer, to the extent of the sum of Fifteen Thousand ($15,000.00) and no further, for such pecuniary loss as the Employer shall have sustained by any act of larceny or embezzlement committed by the Employee after the empowered or authorized by appellee so to do. While Haverly had the opportunity and physical ability to draw such checks he had no right or authority to do so and it was to cover such acts and similar unauthorized acts which his office gave him opportunity to perform, that an indemnifying bond was necessary.

The judgment of the circuit court was fully justified by the law and evidence and is affirmed.

C. E. Dice of rural route one was among the city arrivals yesterday.

DAIL EIREANN IS NEAR TO BREAK ON IRISH TREATY

Effort to Be Made to Bring the Factions Together

By Associated Press. DUBLIN, Jan. 5.—The Dail Eireann which met this morning with disruption threatened adjournment tonight in the hope that a basis of agreement might be reached between the supporters and the opponents of the treaty. The peace committee which is trying valiantly to patch up an accommodation between the two factions is meeting again tonight and will report at private session of the Dail tomorrow morning.

No member of the cabinet is included in the peace committee which is made up almost exclusively of able members of the rank and file of Dail who have spoken for and against the treaty. The most notable of these are Owen O'Duffy, member for Monaghan, and Hainon officer of Ulster who is a supporter of the treaty and Liam Mellows, an uncompromising Republican who will have nothing to do with either the treaty or Devalera's alternative proposals.

The efforts of the peace-makers are believed to be directed toward an arrangement which would allow the treaty to go thru at the same time safeguarding the Republican position in the future.

Owen O'Duffy explained the purpose of the meeting of the committee was the formulation of an agreement whereby Devalera's leadership would be retained and said the committee had before it a document which he could not reveal.

No Compromise Reached. Members of the committee found it impossible to arrive at a compromise last evening, but got so far as placing a proposal before Mr. Devalera but did not obtain his approval.

Notwithstanding the many resolutions sent to the members of the Dail from their constituents urging them either to support the treaty or resign only two of the one hundred and twenty deputies so far have yielded to this pressure. They are P. J. Maloney of Tipperary whose resignation speaker MacNeill announced and Alderman Drohan, Mayor of Drogheda who resigned because he opposes the treaty while his constituents approve it.

The greater part of the public proceedings today was occupied in a discussion regarding the attitude of the press toward the Dail Eireann. Many of the members were eager to take action against the Freeman's Journal by expelling its representatives from the chamber as punishment for the attack in its editorial column on Mr. Devalera and Erskine Childers. Action was postponed pending an apology but also the deputies were agreed in condemning the attacks some of the prominent members including Devalera, Childers, Griffith and Collins thought that such attacks should be ignored in the interests of the freedom of the press.

MISS FRENCH GAVE INTERESTING TALK ON CHINA

At the special meeting of Westminster Guild held Thursday afternoon at the parsonage, Miss Mabel French, sister of Mrs. Smith, who has served for a period of years as missionary in China, gave the principal address. Miss French gave a most interesting picture of her work and experiences and made some reference to the difficulties of the language. It was necessary for her to spend two years in study of the language before she was able to make much progress in the general lines of work.

Two songs were sung in Chinese and made a delightful feature, and the company enjoyed looking at some curios that Miss French brought with her from China. Miss Katherine Barr, who is president of the Guild, presided and also sang a solo, with Mrs. David Smith as accompanist. Mrs. W. S. Jones gave a reading and the devotionals were in charge of Mrs. R. R. Stevenson.

MINERS WILL VOTE ON TWO PROPOSALS

By The Associated Press. SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 5.—Walter Nesbit, secretary-treasurer of the Illinois Miners' union tonight announced modification of the proposal which will be submitted to the miners of the state on the question of financial support to the miners of Kansas in their fight against the industrial court law, declaring that "recent developments in the Kansas situation," make it unnecessary to continue the monthly $1 per member assessment against Illinois members. Following action by the state convention at Peoria levying $1 per month per member for aid in Kansas, John L. Lewis, international president, notified officials of the state organization that the assessment was illegal.

Ballots sent out from state headquarters submit to the miners of Illinois two questions relative to the Kansas situation. The first asks for a vote of approval or disapproval of the policies of the international union president in Kansas. The second proposition is on the question of continuing the pledge to use funds from the state treasury for the aid of the Kansas miners.

Ballots sent out to the local unions today must be back at headquarters by Jan. 16, according to Secretary Nesbit.

GREAT SIMPLICITY MARKED LAST RITES FOR SENATOR PENROSE

Only Immediate Members Of Family Were Present

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 5.—Purged with the greatest simplicity, as was the senator's desire, the body of Boies Penrose tonight rested in a brick lined grave in South Laurel Hill cemetery beside that of his father. There were no flowers or floral offerings. Guards who were thrown around the grave after the undertaker's assistants had lowered the bronze-lined casket into it shortly before 9 o'clock this morning were still there late today.

The same great secrecy that marked the making of the arrangements for the funeral was maintained until the end. Only the late senator's three brothers, Dr. Charles B. Richard, A. F., and Spencer Penrose and their families, Leighton C. Taylor, his secretary and the nurse who accompanied the body here from Washington were in the funeral party.

Mr. Taylor said tonight that there had been a short service at the grave but that he did not know whether it was conducted by a minister.

There was no services at the house.

Everything was done in exact accordance with Senator Penrose's wishes, Mr. Taylor said. The will of Penrose, leaving his entire estate to his three brothers was filed late today at the office of the register of wills. The estate is valued "at $200,000 and upwards," but friends said it was worth many times that amount.

The will was written on a single sheet of paper and dated June 10, 1905.

STATE FILES BILL OF PARTICULARS

non-existent Grant Park Bank.

The bill gives a long list of dates and sums of money said to have been placed in the Grant Park Bank. Starting on May 18, 1917, $300,000 was deposited, it says. By September 11, 1917, the deposits reached $2,400,000. On April 17, 18, 19, 20, 23 and 25, 1918, deposits of $500,000 each a total of $3,000,000 are listed. In May $2,600,000 was deposited; in June $2,500,000; in July $2,998,500, and in November and December, $275,000.

Big Earnings Claimed.

During Mr. Sterling's term it is claimed, $11,500,000 was invested thru the pretended and fictitious Grant Park Bank, earning $843,788.21, part of which it is alleged was retained by the defendants. Starting on January 14, 1919, and continuing until Aug. 4, 1920, deposits were made in the Grant Park Bank by Mr. Sterling, the state says, in sums of $500,000, with the exception of May 15, 1919, when an item of $1,000,000 is listed.

"The people will further offer proof and show," continues the bill, "that the said Len Small at various times and in divers sums transferred money, funds and property of the state of Illinois entrusted to his care to Edward C. Curtis and Vernon Curtis, who purchased * * * with * * * of said state funds * * * divers stock, bonds and securities which stock bonds and securities said Len Small, Edward C. Curtis and Vernon Curtis and Fred E. Sterling kept and retained as and for their personal and private property and the property of others unknown."

"In January, 1921," the state says, Governor Small, Vernon Curtis and Lieutenant Governor Sterling delivered to Edward E. Miller, now state treasurer, twenty "false, bogus and alleged certificates of deposit of moneys and notes of deposit of moneys and fictitious bank called the Grant Park Bank," totalling $10,000,000.

Says Miller Refused. Mr. Sterling, the bill adds, in further execution of the said unlawful agreement, confederation and conspiracy unlawfully endeavored to have the said Edward E. Miller, as treasurer of the said state of Illinois to agree to permit the said moneys, personal goods and property so withheld as aforesaid to continue to be withheld from the state of Illinois for the further use and gain of the said defendants but that Mr. Miller refused to do so and demanded production of the $10,000,000.

On January 15, the governor and Mr. Curtis turned over to Mr. Miller notes of Armour & Co., totalling $5,500,000; notes of Swift & Company totalling $4,400,000; a note of James Wilbur Harris and Clarice R. Harris for $20,000, a note by Merritt E. Hayden for $12,500; one note executed by the late Edward C. Curtis, payable to Mr. Small for $75,000, another note by Mr. Curtis, payable to Mr. Small, for $5,000 and 450 shares of stock in the Ridgely Farmers State Bank issued in the name of Edward C. Curtis and endorsed in blank.

C. C. LeFors, chief counsel for the governor and Werner W. Schroeder, the governor's personal attorney, declined to comment on the state's bill of particulars tonight.

The governor was in Chicago today but left for his home at Kankakee at noon before his at-

ANNUAL ROLL CALL FOR FAVORITE LODGE

More Than Two Hundred Pythians Present for Notable Program—Grand Chancellor Here.

The 13th annual roll call of Favorite Lodge No. 374 was held Thursday night. The attendance of resident members was large and greetings were read from many of those resident elsewhere. Dr. W. E. Spoons was chairman of the occasion and roll was called by Jewell E. Scott. The program included a number of special musical numbers and the occasion was made memorable in many ways.

The Pythians felt especially honored in the presence of Grand Chancellor Swenson Y. Whitlock of Tuscola. One impressive feature of the event was the tribute of silent prayer paid to the members of the lodge who have passed away within the year. John K. Long, A. F. Norbury and J. F. Schmidt.

The opening address was by Dr. Spoons and at intervals in the roll call came the special numbers. There was mass singing, led by Frank Bracewell, with Willard Wesner at the piano. Then came a piano selection by Miss Margaret Merkle, readings by Miss Josephine Rink and a song by Miss Grace Terhune, all of these young women being students at Illinois Woman's college.

A group of songs was sung by Miss Nello Self, with Mr. Wesner at the piano. All of the young women were heartily encored and the Pythians thoroughly enjoyed their contribution to the program.

Mention should also be made of the excellent selections by the K. of P. quartet, which includes James Guyette, Ben Denny, C. B. Magill and Maurice Peckham.

Grand Chancellor Whitlock made only a brief address, complimenting the Knights upon the success of the occasion, referring to the good work of the order in the past and the prospect for the future.

There were also brief remarks by John J. Reeve, J. K. C. Pierson, Dr. A. M. King, Fred Jameson and Elmer Hatfield. Several members of Jacksonville Lodge No. 152 were present and spoke, the number including M. F. Dunlap, who is grand master of exchequer of the Pythian order.

The entire program was preceded by a fine chicken dinner served at 6 o'clock with 200 in attendance. Among the visitors present were Frank Bubb of Perry and J. H. McFarland of Springfield.

Letters were read from the following: Elmer Branham, Peoria; Hy S. Alkire, Houston, Texas; Al Douglas, grand keeper of records and seals, Chicago; G. A. Faugust, Jacksonville; W. H. Henderson, Springfield; Rev. J. W. Kettle, New Salem; Al H. Moore, Moline; E. A. Rohman, Detroit; Frank H. Sheppard, Corvallis, Ore.; and Percy Wilgus and James B. Swift, Chicago.

PAVING THEME AT CONFERENCE THURSDAY

Committees Will Aid County and City Officials in Pavement Plan for Morton Avenue.

Plans for the paving of Morton avenue between the end of the present hard road and the Hardin avenue pavement have not been fully worked out. However, the subject was discussed thoroughly at a special meeting held at the Chamber of Commerce headquarters Thursday morning, and it can be put down as certain that the road will be constructed some time this year.

Representatives of the Automotive Dealers association, the Morgan County Good Roads association and the Good Roads committee of the Chamber of Commerce were present, together with City Engineer E. M. Henderson and Perry White, superintendent of street.

It was stated that the city and county officials are both ready to do something to make certain the paving of this stretch and the committees yesterday decided it would be unwise to make any definite recommendation until it was certain just what action the city officials will favor.

Among others present for the conference were W. E. Sullivan, J. G. Berger, Charles M. Strawn, T. M. Tomlinson and Harold Welch, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

MISS ALCOTT BRIDE OF H. A. WILLIAMSON

Impressive Rites Said in Westminster Church Thursday Evening—Was One of Most Important Social Events of the Season.

One of the most important and impressive events of Jacksonville's social season occurred last evening when Miss Martha Helen Alcott, daughter of Mrs. Lee P. Alcott, and Mr. Harlan A. Williamson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Williamson, were united in marriage at Westminster Presbyterian church. Dr. Thomas W. Smith officiated, using the beautiful ring service. Nearly three hundred guests attended the wedding.

The wedding procession was preceded by a delightful musical program given by three of the most prominent musicians of Jacksonville, Mrs. William Barr Brown and Mrs. A. E. Gregory, with Mrs. Helen A. Bullard at the organ. A duet, "Calm is the Night," by Gotze, was the first number. Then followed a solo, "Beloved, It Is Morn," a duet, "Oh Moments That I Bless," by Charles Demmee, a solo, "Serenade," by Leaurance, and Cadman's duet, "At Dawning."

Mrs. Bullard then played the wedding music from Lohengrin as the wedding procession moved down the west aisle. First came the bridesmaids, carrying out the beautiful rainbow wedding idea with both gowns and flowers, then the maid of honor, followed by the bride, on the arm of her uncle, Abner M. Upham, of Des Moines, Ia. Two dainty flower bearers, Margaret Goebel and Kenneth Chenoweth, scattered rose petals before the bride.

Then came the always impressive ring service and the bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. Upham. Miss Dorothy Stanbro of Keokuk, Ia., was the maid of honor, and William Alcott, brother of the bride, acted as the best man. The ushers were William Berryman and William Floreth of Jacksonville, William DeBolt and Myron Edgeworth of Kankakee, Ill. Edward W. Brown was master of ceremonies.

The rainbow wedding was strikingly effective. The bride wore white satin made on train from the shoulders, and carried a huge bouquet of white roses. Her tulle veil was just the length of her train, worn in a crown around her head, caught up with orange blossoms. Her maid of honor wore jade green taffeta, and all of the bridesmaids wore taffeta frocks. Miss Eleanor Masters wore cerise pink, Miss Esther Davis was in blue, Miss Pauline McMurphy in yellow, and Miss Wilma Williamson, sister of the groom, in pale pink. All of the bridesmaids carried gorgeous bouquets of pink roses. Beautiful ferns were clustered about the altar with white narcissi, adding to the effect. White streamers of tulle and satin were entwined in the ferns and extended up the aisles of the church. The wedding party in the midst of this setting presented a colorful picture of rare beauty.

The recessional was by the east aisle as Mrs. Bullard played the Mendelssohn march.

Following the wedding ceremony, a handsome reception was held at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Williamson, 517 West College avenue. The receiving line there included besides the wedding party and the parents of the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Upham and Mrs. C. S. Stanbro. The Williamson home had been decorated in a very artistic way and the reception was in every way a brilliant social event.

The following assisted in entertaining: Mrs. Edger Davis, Mrs. S. William Babb, Mrs. C. A. Hemphill, Mrs. Alpha B. Applebee, Mrs. William Goebel, Mrs. Paul Samuell, Mrs. D. L. Clark, Mrs. E. S. Greenleaf, Mrs. Nelson McMurphy, Mrs. William Floreth, Mrs. A. T. Capps, Mrs. Robert Capps, Mrs. Eugene Caldwell, Mrs. W. L. Alexander, Mrs. Hugh Breeden, Mrs. J. J. Reeve, Mrs. Frederick Buck, Mrs. Garm Norbury, Mrs. G. B. Andre, Mrs. W. H. Weirich, Mrs. H. K. Chenoweth, Mrs. M. A. Hulet, Mrs. W. Barr Brown, Mrs. A. R. Gregory, Mrs. F. J. Andrews, Sr., Mrs. Lillian King, Misses Margaret Clampt, Marie Wiswell, Wilhelma Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Williamson left last evening for Keokuk, Iowa, to have part in the marriage of the bride's brother, William Alcott, and Miss Dorothy Stanbro, which will take place Saturday night. When they return they will be at home at 1039 West College avenue.

Both of the newlyweds belong to well known Jacksonville families. Mrs. Williamson is the only daughter of Mrs. Lee P. Alcott, and is a graduate of the local schools. She is a member of Westminster church and has been active in the work of the Sunday school. As one of the younger social set of the city, Mrs. Williamson has been unusually popular, and an individual charm of person and character giving her the warm friendship of her associates, whether young or of mature years.

Mr. Williamson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Williamson, and is also a graduate of the local schools. Several years ago he also completed a course at the University of Illinois, and has since been associated with his father in the firm of Williamson & Son. He has an excellent war record as a lieutenant in the flying corps, where he served for two years. He is an unusually active worker in Grace M. E. church and in the Morgan County Sunday School Association, and holds membership fraternally with the Elks, the Masonic order and American Legion. Mr. Williamson ranks as one of the substantial young business men of Jacksonville.

The young people have been entertained at numerous events during the two months following the announcement of their engagement, and with wedding gifts and in other ways their friends have given evidence of high esteem.

gagement, and with wedding gifts and in other ways their friends have given evidence of high esteem.

Among the out of town guests were the following: Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Denton, Miss Edith Barrett, Beardstown; Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Buck, Springfield; Mrs. Helen Cheely, Staten Island, N. ## WHITE HALL TO HAVE FINE NEW GYMNASIUM

New Building Now Being Erected on School Grounds for Use of High School and Grades—Work Began Day After Christmas.

White Hall, Jan. 5.—A new gymnasium and athletic hall is being erected on the school grounds here for the use of the White Hall high school and the grades. It is being paid for out of a community fund which has been solicited from interested people of the city and community, to which the sum of about $500 was added by the local Board of Education. Dean Cora and Rev. Lee A. Hanchett developed the idea of building a community gymnasium by organizing a committee to collect the necessary funds and making the plans for construction. The committee started collecting the fund just before the Christmas holidays and on the day after Christmas work was begun on the new building, which is just west of the school building.

Scores of carpenters and working men together with a number of the school pupils are giving their time to the work on the new gymnasium free of charge. An excellent construction force has been organized and it has made rapid progress on the building notwithstanding the bad weather conditions. As far as is now known the building, which is of frame construction with concrete floor, will be completed by the last of this or the first of next week.

The gymnasium is 90x120 feet in size—large enough to accommodate a large-sized basketball court and still have plenty of room left for necessary dressing rooms and plenty of seats. The floor will be of hard wood construction placed over a concrete floor, making one of the best basketball floors in Central Illinois.

As soon as the building is completed the basketball candidates will be given some work outs and a team will be picked to represent the school in a schedule of games to be played in the local gymnasium and out of town with other high school teams. Dr. H. W. Broberg, who has coached local high school basketball teams for the past several years will again be on hand. He will be assisted this year by Charles Thompson and S. H. Lewis, new members of the high school faculty this term. The coaches say they have some splendid material for a winning team this year.

Five letter men are left over from last year's squad and there are lots of new prospects in the school who have had experience in the game. It is believed that the school will have just as good a team as it had last season. It will be remembered White Hall last season won second place in the district basketball tournament at Jacksonville, losing the championship game to Springfield High by a score of 23 to 14.

As the team will get off to a late start it has been a hard proposition for the manager of the team to arrange a full schedule and a result several games to be played here and out of town are yet to be booked. Teams wishing a place on the local schedule should communicate at once with the manager of High School basketball team, White Hall.

This is the first time in the history of the local school that a gymnasium has been provided suitable for playing basketball and other extensive athletics, and it is certainly appreciated by the whole town. Most everybody are doing their bit towards the new gym, and it no doubt will be a success. It is the only basketball gymnasium in Greene county and large crowds are expected to attend the games from other towns in the county.

BROTHERHOOD AND CHEMISTRY

To the Editor of the Journal:

Have you read the action taken by the executive committee of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America at their recent meeting in Chicago? This council includes representatives of twenty millions of Protestant church members. In the declaration of ideals adopted by the committee are some very significant statements. Let me quote:

"6. The Conference on Limitation of Armament has indeed made a great beginning. We deeply rejoice in the agreements for a radical reduction of navies, for the ten year naval holiday, for the ten year four-power agreement to maintain peace in the Pacific, and for the steps looking toward a real solution of China's pressing problems.

"7. . . . But that which now threatens the world is chemical and airplane and submarine warfare. How can they be abolished so long as competitive armaments and war are recognized as legitimate methods by which civilized peoples may seek to secure objectives? War itself must be outlawed.

"8. . . . We must first establish a peace system. To take the place of competitive war preparations and recurring wars we must create the institutions and the agencies of peace. Methods must be found by which to secure full security, equal justice and fair economic opportunity for all nations and peoples alike.

"9. . . . The most urgent need of mankind today is the speedy establishment of these international institutions for justice, for security and for fair opportunity. "10. . . . It is for the Christian pastors and preachers everywhere to teach these truths to the people and through the grace of God to create that heart and that will in each nation without which disarmament is only a beautiful rainbow in the sky.

"11. We believe that the United States has moral obligations to the nations of Europe. Neither France nor any other nation should ever be exposed to the wrong and the tragedy of invasion. We believe that adequate protection can be given to nations only by effective international guarantees.

"12. This Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America adopts and recommends the following ideals—(of which I quote five):

"I. We believe that nations no less than individuals are subject to God's immutable moral laws.

"III. We believe that nations that regard themselves as Christian have special international obligations.

"VII. We believe that all nations should associate themselves permanently for world peace and good will.

"VIII. We believe in international law and in the universal use of international courts of justice and boards of arbitration.

"X. We believe in a warless world and dedicate ourselves to its achievement."

Now Mr. Editor, over against this plea of men who represent the churches I wish to quote Mr. Francis P. Garvan, president of the Chemical Foundation who addressed the leading chemical men of the country at Columbia university last September 7th. He was urging with all possible earnestness the necessity of developing in this land a knowledge of chemistry and a chemical industry such as will make us absolutely independent of Germany in all future emergencies.

After disclosing some of the German plots to keep control of organic chemistry in the hands of the German nation—plots in which German-Americans were especially active during the early years of the world war to the peril of American interests—Mr. Garvan goes on to say "Germany's ambitions are the same today as they were in 1914. Her methods are the same in peace and war. Rapidly recovering from the debilitation of war losses Germany is once more driving ahead in this special and all-important field. Once more she plans to deceive her rivals. Once more she sends her spies and agents to this country and re-inspires Germans, camouflaged as Americans, to poison the well from which America should draw her full strength for peace or war.

"If that can be done successfully here and in England and France Germany will be a menace to world peace within a decade. It is our people, our statesmen she seeks to lull and benumb. Let her gain her end and she will have developed within ten years peace weapons and war weapons of potency unforeseeable. . . . We have in our grasp today the means to make the United States forever independent in peace and war. In our grasp are the essentials for the control of disease for the vast increase of food production, for the immense development of domestic and foreign industries for secure national defense."

And to Mr. Garvan pleads for the widest extension of the science of organic chemistry throughout this land by high school and college by vast endowments for research and under the protection of government patents.

If Mr. Garvan is correct in his estimate of Germany today then the Federal Council is all the more correct. We can never have a lasting peace merely through naval disarmament. If Germany's "set purpose is to begin anew in the science of her laboratories her task of dominating a world so ridiculously inferior to herself" then the churches must determine to work for a federation of the nations that will bring in at the earliest hour a new spirit of good will which can gradually disarm the mind of Germany and disarm the jingoism of every imperialistic government though it be democratic in name.

Let American chemistry be fostered and carried to the nth power by American capital and American brains, yet nothing can cope either with Germany or Japan but a determined spirit of brotherhood and fairness functioning through an annual parliament of the nations that strive for protection of the weak and voice the highest generosity of the strong. If President Harding has any plan for such a parliament or permanent association, the hour for its proposal is drawing near.

Sincerely yours,
THOMAS W. SMITH.

AMERICAN FIRM
ORDERS AIRPLANE

Is of Type Described By Louis
Breguet as Ocean Crossing
Craft—Expected to Fly 24 Hours Without Stopping.

PARIS.—By the Associated Press.—An American firm has just ordered an airplane of the type described by Louis Breguet,
famous French flyer and con-
structor as "an ocean-crossing plane." M. Breguet recently
predicted that these airplanes
will be making frequent trips
across the Atlantic within two or three years. They are now under construction.

They are expected to be able to fly 24 hours without stopping, at a speed of 180 miles an hour and
to carry 20 or 30 passengers with baggage. This would bring the two continents within a day's travel of each other.

The planes are being planned
with huge wings, six feet thick,
the interior of which will be used for cabins. As described by M. Breguet, their total weight
will be 150 tons, their wings
spread 375 feet and they will have 24 motors of 500-horsepower each.

It was contemplation of this
big advance that led M. Breguet
to suggest the possibility that an airplane eventually will be able
to go around the world in one flight.

"There is no reason why an
airplane could not make the circuit of the world without a stop,
if we used the formula as to weight-lifting and speed and if greater room can be found for fuel, say 70 per cent of the total lifting power," he said.

"Such a plane would travel at a speed of 750 miles an hour, but
this speed would be impossible
unless an average height of 42,- 000 feet could be maintained. At such a height the atmosphere has
one-fifth of its ordinary density.

"The vista spread out by such a possibility is amazing. Man could fly around the earth faster than the earth's movement. He could,
so to speak, catch up with the
sun. New York would only be six hours from Europe.

"Again in the case of war, what would be the use of big fleets if they were faced with huge 100
and 200-ton aerial torpedoes
planes? The navies of the world
will then be relics of the past
fit only for a place in a museum
next, let us say, to mammoths.

"People laugh at those predictions," concluded M. Breguet,
"but so did people in 1840 when
steam navigation was introduced."

What Sam Brown Said to John Smith

Sam Brown: I see where Dr. W. Augustus Pratt, of New York, is making women's mouths smaller by operations.
John Smith: That's a fine idea. I'll take my wife around there.
Maybe he will fix her so she can't talk.
Sam Brown: You're all wrong. Women are having this done for
beauty's sake.

THE LIMITATION OF ARMAMENT CONFERENCE

(Congressman Guy L. Shaw.)

In the limitation of armament
conference we set our goal high.
If we do not reach that goal now,
we still will have the conscious-
ness of having accomplished
much in the attainment of many
steps toward the desired end, and
we will, in consequence, go on in
the future with a more determined purpose to appease the
world hunger for peace.

If we succeed only in limiting
the building of capital ships we
shall have done more toward the
lasting peace of the world than
has ever been done before. Nations have shown their bigness
in sitting down with other nations and conferring with them.
They were eager in accepting the
suggestion of a conference regarding a matter touching the
welfare of their respective countries. Nations have proved
their sincerity by their spirit of
concession to the combined opinion of the other nations.

Every nation has had to give
up some cherished plan or desire.
There has been rejoicing throu-
out the world over each forward step
taken by the conference.

As, a while ago we were looking to Japan to decide the fate of
the parley, now we are looking
to France, hoping she may not
make it impossible for us to take
another vitally important step
forward. Japan yielded to the
massed opinion of the conference
and accepted the proposed naval
ratio. Will France be as big?
Will she even explain frankly,
why she wants such a disproportionate submarine fleet? Has she secret diplomatics? It is possible
that she feels slighted because
she was asked so late to come
into the naval ratio discussion
and is now showing a petty re-
vengefulness? Does she resent not
being included in the "greatest
naval powers of the earth" and
so means to become one of them?
Does she mean to isolate herself
and start on an appalling program
to make herself the greatest military and naval power in the
world?

When France yielded to the
mind of the conference to modify her naval plan to build ten 35,000-ton capital ships in ten
years, she said that her answer
would be based upon the decision
in regard to auxiliary craft, namely submarines, torpedo boats and
light cruisers. She claims that she
is helping to "limit armament"
when she limits herself to 90,-
000 tons of submarines and 350,-
000 tons of other craft, notwith-
standing the fact that she will
have to build much of this ton-
nage in order to reach this "limit." She holds that every nation
should be allowed to build what
she needs to support her capital
ships. The other nations hold
that her demand for auxiliary
craft is out of all proportion to
her capital ship plan.

In fact there is no point in France's demand that we understand. Other nations are scrap-
ping ships. France wants to build.
France asks the conference to
consider her plan of increasing
her navy whereas the conference
was called to discuss reducing,
cutting down, limiting that very
thing.

French Action a Puzzle

The thought continually comes back to our minds "Why does France want to start on this huge naval program?" She made a dramatic plea for a big army, 800,000
men, saying she feared Germany.
She surely cannot need a navy to protect herself from Germany.
Whom does she fear? She cannot fear America, Italy and France are friendly. Great Britain can see nothing in this move
of France's but destruction of England's commerce, menace to her very existence. England is absolutely dependent upon other nations for her supplies. An amazingly small amount of food
and fuel can be stored on her island. She could quickly be shut off from all her supplies by an offensive submarine fleet. This is why England wants no submarines and why she is so disturbed
over France's proposal. England
must begin a race with France
for supremacy in the matter of a submarine fleet if France persists in her demand. Neither will Italy consent to the proposed
submarine ratio unless France
does and she also must start a submarine building program that will be a crushing blow to her finances.

That is the tragic thing about
any nation standing out for her
particular interests in the face of
the combined opinion of the conference as France is doing. Other nations, will be forced, against

DEVICE TO CONTROL
PILOTLESS AIRPLANE

PARIS.—(By the A. P.)—Ingenious devices were invented to control the operation of the pilot-
less airplane which has just been successfully tested in France.
Some of these operate automatically and others by wireless.

The airplanes, having been started by the mechanic, ascended automatically after it had attained sufficient speed. This was accomplished by increasing revolutions of a small fan located between the wings which put in-
to motion a mechanism which,
in turn, placed the control surfaces of the machine into position for ascent.

Once in the air, the airplane
was operated by wireless and was made to circle a large flying
field and descend.

The descent was accomplished
by pressing a wireless key on the ground which released underneath the airplane a roll of wire
with a weight at the end. This weight switched off the engine
and moved the rear surfaces of the plane into position for a smooth landing.

At another test, an airplane
was operated by wireless for an hour. It carried a pilot who took no part in its operation until he desired to land whereupon he took control.

AUSTRALIA WANTS MORE INHABITANTS

MELBOURNE.—(By the A.
P.)—Australia wants 11,000,000
more inhabitants as soon as she
can get them and prefers that they should be of good, white
stock, preferably of British descendant. This additional population is regarded as necessary to develop the resources of the country.

In the light of those figures Australia can hardly be said to be entirely satisfied with the arrival of 20,000 former soldiers
of the United Kingdom who have emigrated to Australia under the government emigration scheme
since the war. This movement is a little too slow to suit Australia. Australian government officials point out that Great Britain
expended nearly $1,500,000,000
in 1920 in public assistance to unemployed and others and they add that much of this might have been saved if those idle persons
had been transported to Australia where they could have supported themselves.

THE LIMITATION OF
ARMAMENT CONFERENCE

(Congressman Guy L. Shaw.)

In the limitation of armament
conference we set our goal high.
If we do not reach that goal now,
we still will have the conscious-
ness of having accomplished
much in the attainment of many
steps toward the desired end, and
we will, in consequence, go on in
the future with a more deter-
mined purpose to appease the
world hunger for peace.

If we succeed only in limiting
the building of capital ships we
shall have done more toward the
lasting peace of the world than
has ever been done before. Nations have shown their bigness
in sitting down with other nations and conferring with them.
They were eager in accepting the
suggestion of a conference regarding a matter touching the
welfare of their respective countries. Nations have proved
their sincerity by their spirit of
concession to the combined opin-
ion of the other nations.

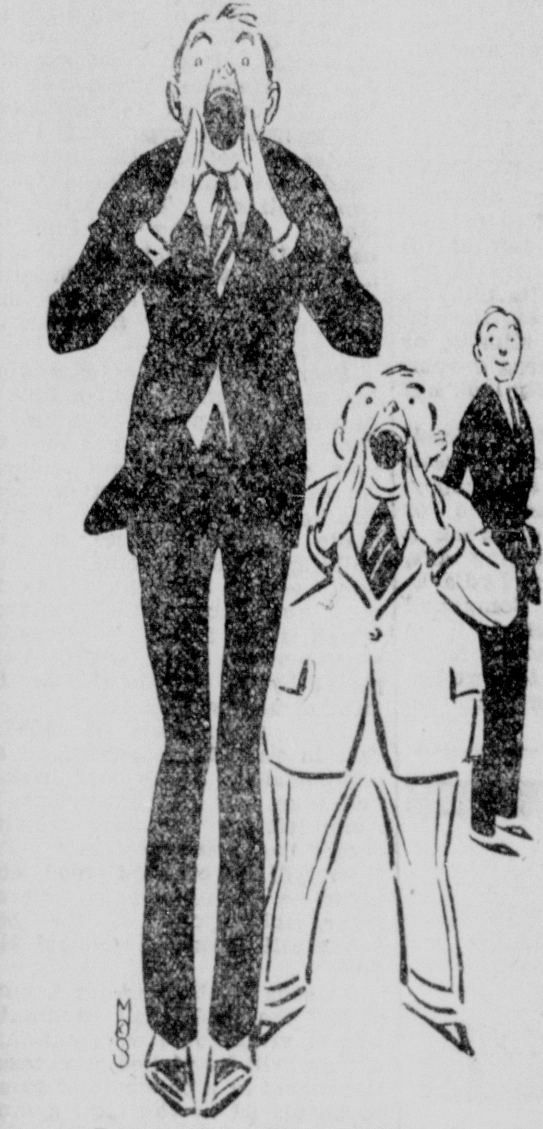

Every nation has had to give
up some cherished plan or desire.
There has been rejoicing throu-
out the world over each forward step
taken by the conference.

As, a while ago we were look-
ing to Japan to decide the fate of
the parley, now we are looking
to France, hoping she may not
make it impossible for us to take
another vitally important step
forward. Japan yielded to the
massed opinion of the conference
and accepted the proposed naval
ratio. Will France be as big?
Will she even explain frankly,
why she wants such a disproportionate submarine fleet? Has she
secret diplomatics? It is possible
that she feels slighted because
she was asked so late to come
into the naval ratio discussion
and is now showing a petty re-
vengefulness? Does she resent not
being included in the "greatest
naval powers of the earth" and
so means to become one of them?
Does she mean to isolate herself
and start on an appalling program
to make herself the greatest mili-
tary and naval power in the
world?

When France yielded to the
mind of the conference to mod-
ify her naval plan to build ten
35,000-ton capital ships in ten
years, she said that her answer
would be based upon the decision
in regard to auxiliary craft, name-
ly submarines, torpedo boats and
light cruisers. She claims that she
is helping to "limit armament"
when she limits herself to 90,-
000 tons of submarines and 350,-
000 tons of other craft, notwith-
standing the fact that she will
have to build much of this ton-
nage in order to reach this "lim-
it." She holds that every nation
should be allowed to build what
she needs to support her capital
ships. The other nations hold
that her demand for auxiliary
craft is out of all proportion to
her capital ship plan.

In fact there is no point in France's demand that we understand. Other nations are scrap-
ping ships. France wants to build.
France asks the conference to
consider her plan of increasing
her navy whereas the conference
was called to discuss reducing,
cutting down, limiting that very
thing.

NEW TIME CARD ON ALTON NEXT SUNDAY

New Schedule Going Into Effect
Next Sunday Will Make Number of Changes—Fewer Trains
Between This City and St.
Louis.

A new time card is to go into effect on The Chicago & Alton
railroad at 12:01 a. m., Sunday, January 8, and will result in a number of changes of interest to local people. Two trains on the section between Roodhouse and St. Louis are to be withdrawn,
this change being the most important one made by the new
time card.

The train to the south which
has been leaving this city at 10:50 a. m., will now stop at Roodhouse instead of running thru to St. Louis. The northbound train which now reaches
here at 2:30 p. m., will run only
between Roodhouse and Bloomington and will probably reach
this city about 2:40 p. m.

The train which under the old schedule reached this city
from St. Louis at 9:50 p. m., will now arrive at 9:35, leaving St.
Louis at 5:26 instead of 5:44 as
at present.

Train No. 16 will run daily except Sunday between Roodhouse
and this city. It will leave Roodhouse at 11:35 a. m., following
arrival there of trains from St.
Louis and Slater, Mo., and will reach this city at 12:20. Train
No. 17 will leave this city at 4:25 p. m., and reach Roodhouse
at 5:10 p. m., making connection with a St. Louis train.

of Mrs. O. M. Petefish.

Members of the Ladies Aid Societies of the Baptist and M. E.
churches of Literberry held a joint meeting Thursday afternoon
at the home of Mrs. O. M. Pete-fish. About forty women were in attendance and the program carried out was of special interest.

An interesting part of the program was a mission play en-

being the cast of characters:

Pinns—Mrs. John Guy.

Schlosser—Mrs. G. A. Dunlap.

Needles—Mrs. Oscar Beavers.

meyer.

A comic list of New Year's much merriment. The devotional

exercises were in charge of Mrs.
Obermeyer and Mrs. Guy.

During the social hour the hostess served delicious refreshments. Among the guests pre-

BURLINGTON BUYS 50
MILES OF FREIGHT CARS

In order to be thoroughly prepared for the great volume of business
which is destined to move with
the coming revival of business,
the board of directors of the Burlington railroad has authorized the purchase of 7,300 freight
equipment units.

Included in the purchase, are:

500 stock cars.

1,300 refrigerator cars.

2,500 box cars.

3,000 composite coal cars.

The primary requisite of these
cars is that they shall "stand up"
and "deliver," and to that end,
the best material that money can
buy and all approved improvements will be incorporated in their construction. Placed end
to end, these 7,300 cars would make a single train fifty-nine miles long.

HER RELATIVES BECAME WORRIED

Chicago Woman Was Ill for Three Years Following Bad Spell of Grippe.

"After what Tanlac has done
for me I could not do otherwise than praise it," said Mrs. Edna Baik, 3810 Irving Park Blvd., Chicago, Ill.

"In nineteen eighteen I had a long spell of the grippe which wrecked my health and left my whole system disordered. I lost
my appetite and my stomach was so upset that as sure as I ate anything I suffered awful distress afterwards. My nerves were so deranged I was restless all the time and couldn't sleep well. My blood
was thin, I had no color, was almost white as a sheet, and was weak and tired all the time, and
at times I turned so dizzy I could hardly see. My relatives as well
as myself were all uneasy and worried over my condition.

"Not long ago I made up my mind to try Tanlac, and now my appetite is just as fine and nothing I eat hurts me a particle. I sleep soundly and have even gained in weight and just feel perfectly well in every way. Others
helped me by telling what Tanlac
has done for them, and now I want to do what I can to pass the good news along myself."

Tanlac is sold in Jacksonville
by Shreve's Drug Store and Coover's Drug Store and by leading drug stores everywhere.—Adv.

PEN PICTURES OF SOUTHERN TRAVEL

(By S. W. NICHOLS)
San Antonio, Texas,
Dec. 29, 1921.

Dear Journal:-
I am feeling very good natured this evening and have good reason for it. The youngest daughter and I went out to the Kelly Field, several miles from the city, taking a trolley line, and after looking around sat down to rest a bit. A gentleman drove up in his auto and asked us if we were going back to town and we said we surely were and he invited us to ride and went quite a bit out of his way to show us some interesting places.

When he arrived at his destination we were yet a number of blocks from our hotel so I stepped up to a pleasant looking gentleman and asked him the way and he replied:
"Get right into my car; I am going that way."
Of course, we didn't hesitate. The gentleman proved to be Rev. J. W. Albritton, pastor of Prospect Hill M. E. church and a very pleasant person. He said his mother's maiden name was Nichols and we had a pleasant visit. His father was in the Confederate army but my bronze button was no detriment to our pleasant acquaintance for, as he remarked, we are all now brothers.

Later when we were sitting in a pavilion in the Alamo Plaza I rose and accidentally dropped a pamphlet behind the seat. Instantly a well dressed, pleasant gentleman hastened to pick it up and hand it to me and as I thanked him I told him by the time he was eighty years old and I was young I would wait on him.

These little incidents are largely typical of the people of this lively city. The place is remarkably cosmopolitan, not at all like Mobile, New Orleans and other southern places I have visited. In the first place there are not as many colored people here as we expected. Then one hardly hears the peculiar southern brogue or dialect at all and when it is heard it is from some one from another southern state visiting here.

The stores, the people, the streets, the walks, the street cars, the automobiles all have a decidedly northern manner. It is also quite a health resort. I met today a gentleman from Kansas who said it was his eighth winter here. He had tried Galveston, Corpus Christi and some other parts but had given them all up for this. While the air is hardly equal to that of Tucson and especially of Tombstone, Arizona, it is very clear and bracing.

There are a good many Mexicans here but they seem to be of a better type than many we have seen in other places. Today we passed two young women handsomely dressed and they were really beautiful.

The little San Antonio river runs right thru the city. It makes a regular ox bow right in the heart of the place requiring many bridges but it isn't more than fifty to seventy feet wide so the structures are not long. It seems strange that such a puny stream could have gone on such a rampage as it went on last September when it overflowed and inundated a large part of the city doing immense damage which was repaired in a remarkably short time.

Few persons fully realize the historic importance of this place for its beginning is the beginning of the mighty state of Texas itself. It is older than almost any city in the south or west and has a wonderful history. It is about the early missions that the beginning of the place clusters and of these there are five. The pitiless march of progress has obliterated the greater part of the old structures but some yet remains and are really interesting buildings in our country.

The Spaniard's idea of colonization began with the church for he was primarily a missionary and conqueror. The priest and the soldier went together for it was useless for the holy men to go without a guard so the military man conquered the natives and the priests Christianized them. Next the native was to be civilized, settled in villages with mechanics to teach him the arts of modern life and so there was to be found in the early settlements the mission, the fort, and the pueblo or village as the latter grew in importance it became a ciudad or city.

According to the most reliable historians San Antonio offers a fine example of the settlement described above. It was about 1718 that the settlement was made and was a perfect example of the three fold plan mentioned above. The Mission of San Antonio de Valera of which the Alamo still survives, the presidio of San Antonio de Bajar, called afterward the presidio of Texas as the Spaniards called the tribe of Indians which we now spell Texas, and the pueblo of Bejar, which we now spell Bejar was the three fold settlement.

The mission was generally a stone quadrangle comprising dormitories for the padres, granaries, store room, work room and a chapel. For the purpose of protection these were generally surrounded by a high stone wall. The presidio or fort was similarly constructed. The pueblo or village was generally composed of two rows of stone houses and houses in which the Indians lived and was also surrounded by a stone wall for the purpose of protection.

It had inclosed fields the necessary supply of water and generally an irrigation ditch with a stone dam, a large granary and other necessary buildings. It is sad to state that none of the old pueblos survive the traces of them are to be seen in various places.

There are several missions of San Antonio. First is that of San Antonio de Valera from which comes the name of the city. It was founded by Governor Martin de Alacon who also founded the presidio of Texas. The Alamo which was the chapel or church of the mission is still standing right in the heart of the city and will have a more complete description later. The first mission was known as LaPrisima Concepcion and was a mile north of the city but only the church is left. Four or five miles farther on is the Mission of San Jose de Aguyao, built in 1720 and is a fine specimen of Spanish architecture.

Four or five miles still farther on is the Mission of San Juan de Capistrano which is beautiful and full of tradition. Farther on is the Mission of San Francisco de Espado first founded in 1590. There is much interesting history connected with these ancient structures but it would take too much space to enumerate even a small part of it in this letter.

Some other interesting suburban places are the Hot Wells, the famous sulphur baths, the Hunt and Polo club grounds, the Insane hospital, or asylum, as they call it down here and the ostrich farm. In many places too are fine gardens kept up by irrigation, water supplied by unfailing artesian wells. To one from the frozen north these present a very beautiful appearance and account for the abundance of fresh vegetables exposed for sale at the stores in the city. One thing too for these stores they arrange their goods of every description in the most artistic manner possible making a tempting array. Some of the artesian wells flow three and a half millions of gallons daily and irrigate large tracts of land.

A tour thru the city is always attractive. If one has any love for the ancient and romantic he will find it right along some of the busy streets and they will fill him with delight. First comes the Alamo Plaza which is a small park right in the center of the business part of the city. It is surrounded by a concrete walk and walks and pavilion are supplied with benches which are generally occupied these pleasant days.

Across the street is the ancient Alamo whose very walls seem to speak of days gone by. The main chapel is 62 by 75 feet, the walls are of solid masonry four feet thick and 22½ feet high. On the north side a wall extended 51 feet to the convent building which was one story 18 by 126 feet while another wall 102 by 186 feet inclosed the convent yard. Then there were the prison building, the main plaza inclosed by walls and 54 by 154 yards in extent. The whole plant occupied between two and three acres and would accommodate 1,000 men.

There were irrigation ditches and the place was well supplied with suitable artillery. Of all the chapel, convent and courtyard are left and can be seen by the visitor. Pages could be filled with a description of the place and the many articles within the ancient walls. As one enters he feels he is at once carried back hundreds of years; times when men worshipped with a Bible in one hand and a sword in the other and freely gave their lives for what they deemed to be right. One feels the inspiration of the old time padres who led their flocks in the right way; of the brave men who blazed the way for the civilization which we of today are enjoying so well.

Braced up at one side are the old wooden doors not needed now for there is no enemy to try to break in. On the left is the old time confessional room, dimly light and one can shut his eyes and hear the words spoken by the devout as they told the father confessor of their short comings. In this room the renowned James Bowie lay ill at the time of the historic siege and here he made the heroic decision to be carried out over a line drawn by Colonel Travis with his sword just outside the door and asked all who preferred to fighting to step across the line and all did so with one exception but his name has not been recorded and he probably was killed along with the rest.

The portrait of James Bowie hangs in this room and the whole building is filled with interesting relics of which I can only mention a few. The name of David Crockett will always be held in reverence and conspicuous on the wall is his portrait and near by a photograph of N. R. Crockett, a grandson of the great pioneer. Then too they have a treasured autograph letter written by the man who brought down the coon in such short order.

A sacred portion of the structure is the monks' burial ground. There in limited space repose the bones of holy men who gave life and all for the cause of religion and humanity. Truly it is a hallowed spot and nearby is the niche in the wall where the holy water was kept and the manner in which it is worn shows how thru the centuries the devout used it as they passed by.

The sacristy is shut off by an iron gate as it is especially holy. It was used as a powder magazine during the siege. The old door was taken away but the government has substituted a new one to keep up the remembrance since the place has been turned into a museum and historical receptacle.

Everything that pertains to Gen. Sam Houston is especially honored and here we see a fine portrait of the old hero. The main street in the city is named for him and in every way his memory is revered and he was the avenger of the Alamo.

A poem, Col. Travis' last address to his troops, an autograph letter by Stephen Austin, the love story of David Crockett, attract attention and here is an old cannon on a pyre of logs. It was lost long ago by the Americans and recovered only a few years ago. Other articles are Scottish Royal standards, Civil War flags and guidon, some Philippine cannon captured by Chaplain Dickson's regiment, an old mill-stone used by the Indians and other relics, a list of which would take a column in the Journal.

The convent ruins and courtyard are redolent of the past and enchanting to one who has any love for the romantic and historical. One old cottonwood tree, used by Mexican sharpshooters remains and here is a fig tree said to be sixty years old.

Thus I have hastily taken the readers of the Journal thru one of the most sacred shrines of America. It has been hard to describe it so briefly but perhaps the story is long enough but I must add a word regarding the siege.

It was Feb. 23rd, 1836, that the Mexicans began the siege but so stubbornly did Col. Travis and his little force hold out and fight the Greasers the fort didn't fall till March 6th. Gen. Santa Ana, like the brave (?) man he was, watched the operations from behind a building 500 yards away. The attack was ordered at four in the morning and as the Mexicans advanced a withering fire was poured into their ranks and twice they reeled and fell back. Then they formed in various directions and advanced in a dense mass and made a breach in the walls and gained admission. Col. Travis was killed but downed a Mexican as he fell. All the garrison were butchered, Bowie, Crockett and others but later on Santa Ana bit the dust.

WHEAT PRICES

CLOSED FIRM

By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—Enlarged milling demand together with unfavorable crop prospects had a bullish influence today on the wheat market. Prices closed May 1½ to 1½c higher with May $1.11½ to $1.12 and July $1.01½ to $1.01½. Corn finished 1 to 1½c down, oats at 1c off to 1½c advance, and provisions unchanged to 7c up.

Announcement that a Chicago mill had bought the entire stock of choice dark Northern Spring wheat here had much to do with the final strength of the wheat market. The amount of wheat involved in the transaction was relatively small 34,000 bushels. The effect of the purchase, however, was enhanced by earlier reports of a more liberal call for wheat on the part of millers at St. Louis, Kansas City and Minneapolis. In addition the fact was taken as significant that the Chicago purchase of dark Northern wheat was a big premium 29c a bushel higher than May delivery on ordinary pit contracts. Bulls put stress too on assertions that about 25 per cent of the winter wheat acreage has a very low condition and that weather maps the last three days indicated no appreciable moisture relief in the worst of the dry area south-west. Nevertheless, buyers were cautious, and even scattered selling found support.

Corn and oats averaged lower as a result seemingly of pressure from cash houses hedging against purchases of corn to arrive. Provisions were firmer in sympathy with hog values and owing to smallness of the December increase of western stocks of meats, the smallest in more than fourteen years.

STOCK MARKET HAS ERRATIC COURSE

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Confusing advances and declines during the forenoon, fitful rallies at midday and a sharp reaction in the afternoon at net losses of one to five points summarized the erratic course of today's broad and active stock market. Passing of the dividend on General Motors common with that stock incidentally falling to a new low record gave fresh point to the belief that manufacturing interests find it expedient to conserve their cash resources.

Shorts were aggressive from the outset covering occasionally as money rates showed greater ease. Commission houses figured in the selling however, rumor attributing much of the liquidation to out of town sources, especially the middle west.

Sales amounted to $75,000 shares.

Interior banks added to their reserves here, that circumstance contributing to the decline in call money rates from five to four per cent at midday. Time loans for the shorter periods continued to be quoted at five per cent but that figure was shaded on prime collateral.

With scarcely an exception Liberty and Victory issues strengthened, showing net gains of 10 to 60 cents per hundred dollars. The general bond list was dull and uneven that time also applying to international. Total sales (par value) aggregated $15,350,000.

FORCED TO VACATE

This headline means just what it says. It tells the story. We must vacate this building by Feb. 25th regardless of all loss.

Our building has been sold over our heads to Andre & Andre, who demand possession when our lease expires.

We must clear the premises and realize that only the most drastic reductions such as have never before been presented to the buying public will accomplish this for us. It is not necessary to mention that we will strictly do as we advertise. Ask your friends and neighbors who have traded with us about our low prices. They will tell you the way we have marked goods. We have never inaugurated a sale, never made any assertions without strictly stating the truth and during this sale we will, as heretofore, zealously live up to our reputation. MUST VACATE, time is limited and it cannot be our concern any longer how much the merchandise will realize. The task before us means the utter disposal of a mammoth $37,000.00 stock of everything ready to wear for women and children. There is but one avenue to success, "Let the goods go at prices here quoted."
